Dr Baratang Alison Lubisi, from South African National, received her BVMCh from Medical University of Southern Africa in 1998. She received her PhD from University of Pretoria. Dr Lubisi is currently the Senior Researcher in the Molecular Epidemiology and Diagnostics Programme at Onderstepoort Veterinary Institute.

Dr Lubisi has been a reviewer to numerous journals including Transboundary and Emerging Diseases, Veterinary Record, Journal of Virological Methods. She has worked as an official commissioner to Office International des Epizooties (OIE) as (RVF)

The today's Onderstepoort Veterinary Institute was inaugurated in 1908 on the farm De Onderstepoort, South Africa. Dr Lubisi, is now coming to our congress to tell us about the very proud history of the Onderstepoort Veterinary Institute at national and international scale.